

BALTIMORE'S JUBILEE.

FIRST DAY OF THE GREAT CELEBRATION.

A THOUSAND FLOATS IN PROCESSION.

President Harrison on the Reviewing Stand.

The President's Reception at the City Hall—Trades Displays, Etc.

BALTIMORE, September 9.—The six days celebration of the anniversary of the defense of Baltimore, in our second war with Great Britain, commenced here today. The events to be celebrated are of national importance, and the fact that one of them, the bombardment of Fort Mifflin, inspired that patriotic outburst in song, "The Star Spangled Banner," is sufficient of itself to give to the Baltimore festival a national interest, which has been recognized in the participation of President Harrison and the efforts of the war and navy departments to contribute to its success.

Along the great thoroughfares of the city of the Chesapeake the frowning fronts of old-time war houses and graceful arches and pillars of modern palaces of trade hide their sombre colors in festoons of bunting and clusters of flags. Never before in the history of Baltimore has anything like it been seen. Scarcely a business house or dwelling in the central section but what has been outwardly beautified by the artistic hands of the decorator. The decorations this year form a striking contrast to those of the Oriole and the sequi-centennial.

The stars and stripes are displayed everywhere in preference to the black and orange of the Oriole times, but still the orange and black are important subordinate places. The banner of the nation and the flag of the state, the standards of Europe and national colors of countries of the new world, mingle their brilliant hues in contrast to the orange and black.

THE JUDGE IS WEARY.

OF THE CHALLENGING OF TALES.

AND OVERRULES SEVERAL OF THEM.

More Evidence Coming to Light in the Cronin Murder Mystery—How a Lawyer Secured Some of the Blood-Stains.

CHICAGO, September 9.—The weary work of finding a jury for the Cronin trial was resumed before Judge McCormick this morning and from a ruling upon the examination of talesmen was begun, it would appear that he is disposed to accelerate the work.

Henry Sweet, a farmer from Glenwood, was examined and cross examined to length and finally Mr. Forester for the defense said:

"I challenge this juror for cause, for two reasons. He has formed an opinion as to the existence of a conspiracy to kill Dr. Cronin and also as to whether or not some of these defendants were members of that conspiracy."

The court—"I want to ask the juror a question before ruling upon that challenge. [To the juror.] If taken and sworn as a juror, would you, notwithstanding opinions formed upon these matters, be able to give these persons a fair and impartial trial, and find a verdict exclusively upon the evidence received from the witnesses and the law as received from the court?"

Answer—"Yes, sir."

Court—"The challenge is overruled."

Forester—"Then we take an exception, your honor, from the ruling of the court, and we challenge the juror peremptorily on behalf of the defense."

The same procedure followed with the next candidate, at the end of which examination Mr. Forester said:

"I challenge the juror for cause, on the ground that he has formed an opinion, which he considers pretty firm and had expressed it."

The court—"Did you, at any time say I believe this man or that man is guilty?"

Answer—"No, I merely said it looks that way."

Question—"Meaning by that, that should published statements be true, it looked so and so?"

Answer—"Yes, sir."

Court—"I do not think the opinion he has formed is such as to come within the rule. I overrule the challenge."

An exception was taken. At this rate the preliminary challenges will soon be exhausted. The further examination of this juror and the ruling several times, the juror's rulings, he was peremptorily challenged on behalf of Burke.

New Evidence Disclosed.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 9.—It seems that although a great deal of matter has been published about the Cronin murder, the true story of the discovery of the evidence at the Carlson cottage has never been told until now. It is also singular that the reporters who were working on the case never discovered that on the night of May 7th, three days after Dr. Cronin was killed, two men, now supposed to have been Knutze and Conney, were arrested and taken to the station and discharged by Captain King.

A local paper states recently that there was a certain Irish officer on the Lakeview police force who was suspected of direct implication in the murder of Cronin. Other such statements were printed by the same paper in later issues. Finally the officer determined to tell his story.

which is now made public for the first time. Officer Robinson has been on the Lakeview force several years, and has always borne a good reputation. He is an Irishman by parentage, but is not a member of any Irish secret society. Robinson had a beat in which the cottage was located, and it was his duty to patrol the beat. He had been on duty for several blocks north and south of the Carlson house. At different times before the murder, Robinson noticed some men going in and out of the basement. On the night of May 6th, Robinson saw a man

CRAWLING OUT OF THE BASEMENT of the cottage, and accosted him. Robinson has never seen Burke, but he believes that Burke was the man who talked with him that evening. He said that he and his brother were renting the cottage, and that he had been in the basement. He did not know if there was not a good place there to store some old furniture.

At 9 o'clock the next night Robinson came upon two men who were talking together in the shadow of a little real estate office near the Carlson house. He heard them talking in English, with German accent, that they had lost their way and wanted to get down town. Robinson asked them if they wanted to go down town. The taller man, who had a dark mustache, and who spoke with an Irish accent, answered evasively, and Robinson determined to arrest them.

Just as he started for the patrol box a man ran from the direction of P. O. Sullivan's barn and asked what Robinson was going to do with the men. Robinson recognized this third person as the man he had seen crawling from the basement of the Carlson cottage, and told him he was going to the station and if the stranger said much he would take him along. The man said no more when he saw that the officer recognized him, and he followed Robinson.

THE MEN WHO WERE QUESTIONED BY Captain Wing. They gave their names and supposed addresses and repeated the story that they had been in the basement. Robinson charged were entered against them on the books, consequently the officer

DOES NOT REMEMBER THE NAMES they gave. They were taken down stairs, kept in custody until morning and then released by Captain Wing's order.

"What was the use of sending them to Bridewell to cost the city of Lakeview twenty-five cents a day," said Captain Wing to Robinson. The men then discharged it is believed by Officer Robinson were Knutze and Conney. Their description answers that of the two suspects very closely.

At the time of their arrest it was not believed that Dr. Cronin had been murdered. Two nights later, Robinson said he saw one of the men he had arrested coming out of the cottage after midnight. He did not know who he was, but he considered that he had been rebuked by Captain Wing when he discharged the prisoners. Robinson talked with the neighbors about the going out of the cottage, and concluded that there must have been a crime committed there. He told Carlson of his suspicions, and young Carlson went into the cottage

AND FOUND THE BLOODSTAINS. Thought that Cronin had probably been killed in the place suggested itself to Robinson, and he told Captain Wing of his suspicions. The latter adhered to his story, but did nothing. Robinson learned more about the matter, and again spoke to Captain Wing. Three times in succession the officer claims to have told Wing of his belief that Cronin was killed in the cottage, but nothing was done until a week after Cronin's body was found. Lieutenant Schuetler was then sent from Larabee station to Lakeview, and while talking with Captain Wing, learned of Robinson's suspicions. Schuetler went to the cottage and examined the bloodstains, and satisfied himself that the murder had not yet been committed there. Robinson has not as yet been summoned as a witness by the state.

PROTECTING A WOMAN.

A Brutal Husband Meets His Death in August.

Augusta, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—Mr. Isaac Stallings, a middle-aged white man, died in the city hospital this evening from the effects of three blows on the skull with a stick, in the hands of Mr. Samuel Cobb. Late Saturday night Mr. Sam Cobb, while passing the house of Mr. Isaac Stallings, in Harrisonburg, was attracted by the screams of a woman, and after ascertaining that Stallings was maltreating his wife, called upon him to stop. No attention was paid to him, and Cobb began to rap for a policeman. Stallings then turned upon Cobb and ordered him to stop rapping. The latter continued to rap for a policeman, and Stallings rushed on him with a knife. Cobb was shot through the leg ten years ago and walks with a stick. When Stallings advanced on him with the knife, Cobb struck his danger, struck his assailant several times with the stick that he carried, felling him to the earth and rendering him helpless. After this the wounded man was taken into his home, and Dr. Moran summoned, who pronounced the contusions quite serious, but not necessarily fatal. Yesterday Stallings was taken to the hospital, where his condition became much worse, and he died this evening. Drs. Dozier and Glass made an autopsy tonight, and will testify before the coroner's jury tomorrow that Stallings's death resulted from concussion of the brain, caused by blows on his head. Cobb is in jail, but is quite confident that nothing will be done with him, and he allows to save himself from the hands of a policeman, and from whom he had nothing against, and from whose cruelty he was trying to save his own wife.

BULLET TROTS TEN MILES.

Five Hundred Dollars the Wager for the Test.

Augusta, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—Mr. Thomas Butler's horse, "Bullet," trotted five miles at a fast pace, on a track of five miles, on a $500 wager. Mr. John O'Brien bet $500 that "Bullet" couldn't trot ten miles in forty minutes. Mr. Butler drove the horse himself, and he won the bet. The horse was not badly hurt, and was an easy winner. The race attracted a large attendance.

HOMMELL'S WINE.

THE GEORGIA FARMERS TESTING THE GOODS.

The Great Graperies of Ohio.

Hon. Mr. Hommell Makes Wine Which Rivals the Finest Champagne—The Trip to Toledo.

SANDUSKY, O., September 9.—[Special.]—The Georgia party is having a better time and learning more every day. Their trip, so far, has been extremely pleasant and instructive. This morning, in Cleveland, the crew of the life-saving station gave a special exhibition upon the lake in their honor. At 11 o'clock we left Cleveland, and reached here at 1 o'clock. We were

IMMEDIATELY TAKEN IN CHARGE by a delegation of prominent citizens, and carried across the lake to Cedar Point, where an excellent dinner had been prepared. After dinner the party returned to the city, and visited the wine manufacturers and cellars. That of Engels & Krudwig was the largest. It contained 250,000 gallons of wine of all kinds. Around this city there are more than twenty thousand acres

PLANTED IN GRAPES, and millions of gallons of wine are made annually. Every farmer here grows grapes, and the culture is as universal as cotton in Georgia. Perhaps the most interesting and novel sight of the day was a visit to the champagne manufactory of Mr. M. Hommell, where I SAW HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF BOTTLES are made annually. The wine is made from the cataract grapes. The juice ferments in casks for one year. Then it is bottled and allowed to ferment for two years. By skillful manipulation the sediment is then extracted. The wine is sweetened by the addition of rock candy, dissolved in similar wine. It is then reworked and is ready for the market. The consignment of our party pronounced it as good as any imported champagne.

It is, however, very much cheaper, being sold to dealers at $10 a case. During our stay at Mr. Hommell's, Mr. Orchard induced him to consent to make an exhibit at the Piedmont exposition. Mr. Hommell was engaged in the manufacture of champagne in France for many years, and says that the wine made from the grapes here is equally good as that of France. Tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock we leave on a steamer on Lake Erie for Toledo. En route we shall stop off at Johnson Island, the old war-prison where so many Confederate officers were confined.

STOPS WILL BE MADE on many islands where grapes are grown, but the principal feature of the day will be the stop at Put-in-Bay Island, where the anniversary of Commodore Perry's victory at this point will be celebrated. A corner stone will be laid for a new monument, and United States gunboats will fire salutes. We reach Toledo tomorrow night, where the tri-state fair will be taken in.

RILED BY A FALL.

A Well-Known Young Man Falls From a Scaffold.

NEWARK, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—This afternoon, at 1 o'clock, Mr. Richard Smith, a young single man about twenty-eight years of age, living at Powell station, six miles northeast of this place, was instantly killed by falling from a scaffold, which he was erecting around a water tank at his public gin. He fell about fifteen feet, but a large piece of timber fell also, hitting him on the breast, causing instant death. The deceased was a young man of rare and exceptional virtues, and belonged to one of the oldest and most influential families in this section of the state. His remains will be interred tomorrow at 1 o'clock, at Coke's Chapel, in the sixth district, the old family burial ground.

ROW ON THE CAMPGROUND.

An Obedient Marshal Brings About a Collocation.

LAFAVETTE, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—Quite a serious affray occurred yesterday at Concord campground. Mr. Longley, of Dalton, was there, and was being taken to a home, when he drove his turnout on the grounds where the authorities had ordered the marshals not to permit any riding or driving. Mr. Longley, however, it seemed that Longley was determined to be the victor until Mr. Dumb Suratt appeared on the scene with a heavy board, with which he struck Longley on the nose and cheek, knocking him senseless, and at the same time inflicting a very ugly but it is hoped not a very serious wound.

THE HIGHEST RATE FOR YEARS.

The County Commissioners of Bibb County Fix the Rate.

MACON, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—The county commissioners of Bibb met today and made the tax levy for the year 1899 at eighty-five cents per acre. This is the highest rate Bibb has had for many years, and was caused by the heavy cost of the Woolfolk case and other extraordinary expenses. As the state rate is forty, the combined state and county rate for Bibb will be one and a quarter. This is the highest rate Bibb has known for a long while. The average rate for many years has been one per cent. The total tax returns for the county are $14,128,786. A levy of $100 will bring a total of $120,000, which will be expended for the following purposes: General expenses $9,000.45; Road $7,280.20; roads $10,400.58; bridges $1,680.19; paupers $4,236.72; courthouse $2,215.08; jail $4,087.41; city court $7,394.35; superior court $10,000; coroner's jury $300; orphans' jury $400; public schools $30,000; debts maturing January, 1899, $27,000.

THE BELIE WAS FORTY-FIVE.

And She Counted the Young Man at the Spring.

COLUMBUS, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—Mr. Headrick Williams and Miss Martha Critchfield came here from Clayton, Ala., today at noon, and were married in the office of the ordinary by Rev. J. B. Cumming. While the ceremony was being performed, Chief of Police received a telegram from the groom's father, D. W. Williams, asking the arrest of his son. The telegram came five minutes too late. The groom is eighteen, and the bride is apparently about forty-five. The young man related the story of his courtship to THE CONSTITUTION. The woman was employed on his father's place, and he often met her filling her pail of water at the spring in the gloaming. The

A Brutal Husband Meets His Death in August.

Augusta, Ga., September 9.—[Special.]—Mr. Isaac Stallings, a middle-aged white man, died in the city hospital this evening from the effects of three blows on the skull with a stick, in the hands of Mr. Samuel Cobb. Late Saturday night Mr. Sam Cobb, while passing the house of Mr. Isaac Stallings, in Harrisonburg, was attracted by the screams of a woman, and after ascertaining that Stallings was maltreating his wife, called upon him to stop. No attention was paid to him, and Cobb began to rap for a policeman. Stallings then turned upon Cobb and ordered him to stop rapping. The latter continued to rap for a policeman, and Stallings rushed on him with a knife. Cobb was shot through the leg ten years ago and walks with a stick. When Stallings advanced on him with the knife, Cobb struck his danger, struck his assailant several times with the stick that he carried, felling him to the earth and rendering him helpless. After this the wounded man was taken into his home, and Dr. Moran summoned, who pronounced the contusions quite serious, but not necessarily fatal. Yesterday Stallings was taken to the hospital, where his condition became much worse, and he died this evening. Drs. Dozier and Glass made an autopsy tonight, and will testify before the coroner's jury tomorrow that Stallings's death resulted from concussion of the brain, caused by blows on his head. Cobb is in jail, but is quite confident that nothing will be done with him, and he allows to save himself from the hands of MEDICINAL.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alternative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 12th street, New York, certifies:— "About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great difficulty, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I feel its beneficial effects before I have quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-purifier I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

WITH THE LEGISLATURE.

THE DAY WITH THE MEMBERS OF BOTH HOUSES.

Monday is a Quiet Day, and Yesterday Was No Exception—Afternoon Sessions Done Away With.

The house has decided to do away with afternoon sessions for the present, so as to give the committees more time to work. During the past week the house has held afternoon sessions on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 3 to 5, and on these days in the morning the house convened at 10 and adjourned at 1.

This rule has been changed, and the house will, beginning tomorrow, meet at 9 and adjourn at 1, and hold no afternoon sessions.

Mr. Tyson, of McIntosh, introduced the resolution providing "that hereafter the hour of convening shall be at 9 a. m., and of adjournment 1 p. m., and there shall be no afternoon sessions."

Mr. Shelton, of Meriwether, who says he is forced to leave the house at 12 every day, moved to amend by striking 1 and inserting 2 and striking 1 and inserting 12. Mr. Candler of DeKalb, moved to amend so as to make the hour of meeting 7 a. m. and adjournment 1 p. m.

Mr. Shelton said if the gentleman from DeKalb was in earnest about meeting at 7 o'clock in the morning he would heartily support the amendment.

Mr. Shelton's amendment was lost, but he tried to get the ayes and nays on it. The house voted down the amendment by a majority of 12. Pending a vote, the hour for adjournment arrived.

At the afternoon session the resolution of Mr. Tyson was passed by a vote of 40 to 30. The bill for regulating street cars.

Mr. Fleming, of Richmond, offered a bill in the house yesterday, regulating the prices of sleeping cars on railroads in Georgia.

The bill prescribes that not more than one dollar shall be charged for the use of a berth for one hundred miles, and that upper berths shall not be put down unless they are to be occupied. The bill was sent to the railroad committee.

REFERRED AGAIN.
The special order in the house yesterday was the bill by Mr. Bell, of Forsyth, to incorporate the Union Real Estate company. After it was read, on motion of Mr. Hardean, of Bibb, it was referred to the committee on banks to examine the banking clause which had been added to the bill.

BONDS OF FULTON COUNTY OFFICIALS.
Mr. O'Neill's bill to fix the bonds of the clerk of the superior court and sheriff of Fulton county passed the house yesterday. As introduced by Mr. O'Neill the bill provided for the bond of the clerk and sheriff at $50,000 each, but the committee amended it by fixing the clerk's bond at $25,000, and left the sheriff's at $50,000. The bill passed as amended.

NEW BILLS INTRODUCED.
Mr. Felton of Bartow—to incorporate the town of Emerson in Bartow county. Co. operations. Mr. Tyson of McIntosh—to incorporate the town of Blackstar and Southern railroads. Mr. Shelton of Meriwether—to prohibit the hauling of coal and other heavy freight between sunset and sunrise. Agriculture.

Mr. Fleming of Richmond—to regulate the sleeping car service in Georgia. Railroads.
Mr. Glenn of Whitfield—to prohibit the sending of any message to lead to or which may lead to a duel. General judiciary.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.
Mr. Jones of Baker—a resolution relative to mileage for the adjourned session. Tabled.
Mr. Stokes of Charlton—to amend the road laws of the county of Charlton.

Mr. Jones of Baker thought the bill unconstitutional. There was a general law covering the case and he thought it unwise to pass special road laws. Mr. Stokes said the bill was perfectly constitutional. The people of Charlton county wanted the bill passed. The bill passed with a few dissenting votes.

Mr. Warren of Bullock—to prohibit hunting or fishing on the lands of another in Bullock county. Passed.
Mr. Johnston of Campbell—to extend the corporate limits of the town of Fairburn. Passed.

Mr. Humphreys of Brooks—to amend the public school act of the town of Oglethorpe. Passed.
Mr. Gamble of Jefferson—to amend the charter of the academy at Louisville in Jefferson county. Passed.

Also, to authorize the town of Louisville to purchase lands for the academy. Passed.
Mr. Harrell of DeKalb—to incorporate the Bainbridge Lake Douglas Normal Suburban railroad. Passed.

Mr. Church of Calhoun—to incorporate the Catonsville railroad. Passed.
Mr. Tatum of DeKalb—to amend the road laws, so far as they apply to the county of DeKalb.

Mr. Fleming of Richmond thought this bill was unconstitutional, but to settle the matter he moved to refer the bill to the general judiciary committee. Mr. Lewis of Hancock favored the bill, as for his being unconstitutional, let the courts decide that. Nobody understood the constitution anyhow, and it was uncertain what was constitutional.

After some discussion, Mr. Fleming withdrew his motion, and the bill passed in the affirmative.
Mr. O'Neill—to fix the bonds of the clerk and sheriff of Fulton county. Passed.

Hon. W. T. Smith, of Gwinnett, is quite sick at his home, in Buford, with catarrhal fever.

Hon. John D. McCloud, the efficient messenger of the senate who has been confined to his room with mumps, left Sunday to spend a few days at his home, in Telfair county.

The following are the special orders in the house this week:
For Tuesday, No. 28, by Mr. Hall of the twenty-sixth district—a senate resolution to provide for the appointment of a committee to ascertain claims of losses of the Western and Atlantic railroad.

For Wednesday, No. 24, by Mr. Felton—a bill to appropriate the proceeds of the lease of the Western and Atlantic railroad to educational purposes.

For Thursday, No. 20, by Mr. Felton—a bill to amend part 2, sec. 18, art. 6 of the constitution as to a district between grant and tax.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT
To increase the Number of Supreme Court Judges—A Short Senate Session.

One of the most important measures now before the senate is the bill to submit to the people a constitutional amendment to elect two associate judges of the supreme court, so as to make five instead of three.

Everyone who has any knowledge of the business done by the supreme court, and the labor performed by each one of the judges knows that there is work enough to kill three men. When the question was submitted to the people last year it was thought to be so sure to carry that no effort was made in its behalf before the people, and the amendment practically went by default. In some instances there were no tickets with the printed amendment furnished to voters.

Senator W. A. Johnson, of Columbia, the author of the bill, has been very anxious that the matter be fairly put before the people, and he has been endeavoring to amend the bill so that it will carry a large majority. This is the general opinion, and the bill will undoubtedly pass.

As the two large committees to the lunatic asylum and the penitentiary are still absent, leaving a bare quorum, the senate could not with propriety put bills on their passage yesterday, so about an hour was spent in clearing the secretary's desk of all business ripe for action, which consisted of bills on first and second reading. When this was done the senate adjourned till 10 o'clock this morning.

The bill to elect the commissioner of agriculture by the people comes up in the senate today as the special order. It is said to have gained some votes in account of Commissioner Henderson's action in removing the office of state chemist to Atlanta. The friends of the bill are in a hurry to get it passed, and if the absent committee members are in their seats this morning they may succeed in passing the measure.

Senator Trammell introduced an important bill in the senate yesterday. It provides for the inspection on foot of all beef offered for sale in the town and cities of Georgia.

A committee of the Knights of Labor, consisting of Dr. William Curtis, Mr. G. K. Woodward, Mr. J. S. Wallace and Mr. W. Wallace will appear before the general judiciary committee to present facts and arguments for the passage of Senator Rice's bill to prohibit child labor and to establish a state board of arbitration in disputes between employers and employees.

Senator Strother is very sick at the residence of Dr. S. D. Holland, in West End.

Hon. W. T. Revell, editor of the Meriwether Viduatore, was invited to a seat on the floor of the house yesterday on motion of Mr. Hill, of Meriwether.

A memorial was read in the house from Thomas S. Marston, an inmate of the lunatic asylum from Cuyler's asking that he be released from the asylum and promising that he would leave the state never to return. A memorial was read, signed by a number of citizens asking for Marston's release. The memorials were referred to the committee on lunatic asylums.
